

Business Technology Guides

October 31st, 2014

MySherpa, an independently owned MSP in Wilmington, Delaware, provides comprehensive technology support services for small to medium sized businesses in the Mid-Atlantic area. We pride ourselves on guiding clients through the complex world of technology and delivering high-value for the investment. MySherpa supports business technology in all verticals on a scale of services – from complex network projects to a fully equipped IT department.

Security is a key feature for us and our clients – and it's an area where we can never stop learning, never be prepared enough. We believe that information is the most powerful tool we can use, and supporting Security BSides Delaware is a crucial step in disseminating the word that understanding and implementing cybersecurity needs to be a top priority.

As the October 2014 Cyber Security Awareness Month Champion at StaySafeOnline, we are dedicating our resources to providing the best and most comprehensive security solutions for ourselves and our clients. Throughout this past month, MySherpa has been undergoing deep and severe security and penetration testing in-house in order to inform and reveal our own need to improve. We are committed to developing rigorous security protocols that will help keep us and our clients on the forefront of secure practices.
